Procedure Summary

Development of a new academic degree program may be implemented at Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi following approval by the appropriate university advisory groups, President’s Cabinet, the Texas A&M University System (TAMUS), the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board (THECB), and when required, the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges (SACSCOC). The procedure outlines the development and approval process for creating academic degree programs, as well as, the responsibilities of involved parties.

Procedure

1. GENERAL

A degree program is considered new when it currently does not exist at the university. An existing program can be considered new if it is newly offered off-site, such as in a cooperative or joint program. If faculty members or administrators are unsure whether a program is classified as “new” or not, they should ask the Office of the Provost for clarification.

2. DEVELOPMENT OF NEW DEGREE PROGRAMS

2.1. Before beginning proposals for new degree programs, support for the development of the program must be secured from the department chair, college dean, and Office of the Provost.

2.2. After receiving approval to develop the proposal, the developers of the degree will follow the routing process outlined in section 4 of this procedure.

2.3. System Policy 11.10, Academic Program Requests explains the system's guiding principles for academic program requests. Further information on criteria, standards, and processes for approval can be found on the TAMUS website under the Office of Academic Affairs.
2.4. Requests for new academic degree programs will be developed according to the rules of the THECB. Proposals for baccalaureate, master's, and doctoral degree programs must meet specific criteria set by the THECB. The THECB provides information on the requirements on its website under the Academic Quality and Workforce Division.

3. RESPONSIBILITIES IN THE CURRICULUM REVIEW PROCESS

3.1. The faculty originators are responsible for:

3.1.1. Obtaining initial support from the department chair, college dean, and the Office of the Provost.

3.1.2. Presenting the supported idea to the department faculty for a vote.

3.2.1. Ensuring that proposals are properly prepared and all necessary forms are completed, including attachments (e.g., syllabi, letters of support or votes from affected departments or committees).

3.2.2 Ensuring that all information being entered into the approved university catalog database is correct.

3.2.3 Alerting other department chairs if the curriculum will involve their departments. Supporting documentation from the affected departments must be included in the proposal.

3.2.5 Documenting the departmental faculty vote.

3.2.6 Routing the complete proposal to the college curriculum committee.

3.3. The college curriculum committees, whose makeup is defined by the college, are responsible for:

3.3.2. Considering if the changes support the university’s mission.

3.3.3. Checking for potential duplication between disciplines within the college.

3.3.4. Reaching out to the faculty originators and the department chairs should anything need clarification.

4. INTERNAL REVIEW OF NEW DEGREE PROGRAMS

4.1. The originator secures the support of the department chair, dean, and Office of the Provost.

4.2. The appropriate forms must be completed in the approved university catalog database. Requested syllabi should include the course number, the name of the course, a course description, students learning outcomes, major assignments, required readings, grading criteria, and a course schedule.

4.3. According to the SACSOC Resource Manual, curriculum approval will begin at the department or program level and be controlled by the faculty. Therefore, the degree proposal must be reviewed and voted on by departmental faculty first and then forwarded to the college’s curriculum committee for consideration. It is encouraged to note the college’s curriculum committee’s meeting schedule to prevent possible delays.

4.4 The dean’s office will work with the originator and the department chair to ensure that any changes requested by the majority of the college committee are made in the approved university catalog database. If the department faculty disagree with the changes requested, an explanation of the disagreement must be noted and forwarded with the proposal. If the college’s faculty handbook calls for it, an all-college faculty vote must be taken before the dean’s recommendation is forwarded.

4.5. Materials will be forwarded to the UCC. Prior to the committees’ meeting(s), members shall share proposals with their constituencies in order to solicit feedback to bring to the committee meetings. An agenda must be sent to the dean’s office at least five (5) business days prior to the meeting. In order to facilitate the necessary discussion, meetings will be conducted in a medium to encourage synchronous interactions (e.g., face-to-face, WebEx, conference call). Anyone in the university community is welcome to attend UCC meetings but will need to be recognized by the chair for speaking privileges.

4.6. A representative from the Division of Academic Affairs will contact originators and department chairs regarding any changes recommended by the UCC. If there is a difference of opinion regarding changes, then the Division of Academic Affairs will facilitate conversations to collaboratively find solutions. The President has the authority to make a final decision.

4.7. Members of the Faculty Senate’s Academic Affairs Committee will present their recommendations regarding new programs to the Faculty Senate. Voting will generally take place at either the meeting of the initial presentation or the following month’s meeting. Recommendations will be routed to the Division of Academic Affairs, who will work with the originator, department chair, and dean’s staff to prepare a recommendation for President’s Cabinet.

4.8. President’s Cabinet is the final internal approver of new degree programs. With President’s Cabinet approval, new program recommendations will continue on to the external review process detailed in section 5 of this procedure.

5. EXTERNAL REVIEW OF NEW DEGREE PROGRAMS

5.1. Following President’s Cabinet approval, the Office of the President will submit proposal requests to TAMUS, in accordance with the process specified in System Regulation 11.10, Academic Program Requests.

5.2. Following approval by TAMUS, the TAMUS staff will submit requests for proposed degree programs to the THECB for approval.

5.3. Program revisions that qualify as a substantive change may require additional forms and a review by SACSCOC. Substantive change is detailed in University Procedure 11.10.99.C0.05, Substantive Change. While not all programs require a full review by SACSCOC, many still require notification.

5.4. New degree programs must not be advertised until the Provost or their designee informs the department that final approval is expected by a proposed date. Students cannot be recruited or promised enrollment in programs until final approval is given and the university receives notice.
